SECURITY CAMERAS

Question: How can my home or business benefit from a security camera system?

Answer: Security is an issue that's on the mind of every business owner, large or small. Installing security cameras is a great way for business owners to get peace of mind, knowing that their business premises are secure. Cameras also provide owners with evidence against employee theft and slip & falls. No matter how airtight you think your business is, there's always something else that can be done to make your company more secure. Security cameras might just provide the edge you need.

Whether you install analog or IP cameras, coupled with a conventional security monitoring system you can effectively increase your efficiency, reduce theft losses, lower your insurance premiums and enhance the safety of your customers and staff.

With today's technology, you can view and control your cameras with any internet ready device from home or even while on vacation. If there is an incident, you can identify who, what, where, and when the event occurred. Every time there is movement in the camera's view, it is recorded onto the DVR (digital video recorder). DVR's can also be programmed to record 24/7. If necessary, a copy of the event can be made to use in the prosecution of the guilty party.
